About the floor

Beech is one of Europe's most common hardwood species and the excellent strength properties in combination with a uniform structure make beech very suitable for floors. When beech is toned with a white colour the beauty and simplicity of a Scandinavian floor design is enhanced.

Junkers solid hardwood flooring is produced and categorized in accordance with EN 13629, EN 14342 and Junkers own factory standard. The floors are made exclusively from solid hardwood and the images illustrate the colour, knots and structural graining variation characteristic for the specific wood species and grade.

Each image shows the average appearance of the grade. It is normal to see a variation in appearance between individual boards, staves and floors produced and installed at differing times.

Up to 5% of the staves may contain features of the next style.

Hardwood floors may fade and change colour over time, especially when exposed directly to sunlight.

WHITE BEECH 2-STRIP | GRADES

The actual colour on a wooden floor can vary from the colour shown in this style chart. This is due to the fact that colours are very difficult to reproduce online and in printed material. Junckers accepts no liability to discrepancies and we always recommend ordering a physical sample before placing an order.
